You may apply for an exemption from the 52 week articling requirement; however, it is the Law Society's policy to require applicants to article for a minimum of six months. This policy recognizes that there are significant differences between the practice of law in Manitoba and foreign jurisdictions and that a significant period of articles is required for an articling student to obtain the necessary practising experience in Manitoba.

Provide original letters from two or more lawyers from the jurisdiction in which you practised which address your practising experience in relation to the specific exemption(s) being requested and your demonstrated competence.

Attach the Law Society's Summary of Practising Experience form.

The Law Society reserves the right to require further information or documentation from the applicant.

I certify that the information set out above is true.
